

THE MITCHENALL FAMILY
ORIGINS, HISTORY AND NOW

WILL THERE BE MITCHENALLS
TOMORROW?

Where are the Living Mitchenalls

HAVE YOU VISITED? MITCHEN HALL

- Last year I explained why I concluded that Mitchenall really was a corruption of Mitchen Hall – the below entry from the 14th Century seems to confirm.
- This year those attending can get a look at Mitchen Hall; I'm sorry we couldn't arrange access.

“Henry de Michenhale is new and has remained in Michenall's (or Mitchenor's) Farm; Mitchenall being a place name in Godalming parish, whence perhaps Henry came.”
Extract from the Blechingley – A Parish History (1347)

TO REMIND YOU : WILLIAM AND MARY (MITCHENALL) MARRIED 24TH JUNE 1821 IN ST GEORGE THE MARTYR, SOUTHWARK.

- William, son of John Mitchenall (1759 – 1820) , was born in 1793.
- He married Mary Winter
- By 1838 they had 12 children
 - William, Mary, Ann, John, James, Amos, Kezia, George, Joshua, Samuel, Rebecca and William.
- After 1885, the only Mitchenalls traced or recorded are descendants of William and Mary Mitchenall.
- Of their 8 sons who could have had Mitchenall sons, only three have living progeny called Mitchenall
 - The first William died in infancy.
 - John's last descendants named Mitchenall died in 1966.
 - James last descendants named Mitchenall died in 1923
 - Amos and Samuel had no sons
- Today, my focus is the living Mitchenalls – all of the descendants of George, Joshua or the younger William

WILL THERE BE TROUBLE AHEAD? (OR IN THIS CASE, MITCHENALLS!)

Today, I will go through where the living Mitchenalls are Using the analysis I have done to create the website (still under construction)

My apologies if I have missed anything out, or

Put anything in you'd have preferred I didn't.

Just to confirm, WWW.Mitchenall.online will not feature living people (unless I can secure it.)

I will be supplying a copy of the "Descendants of William Mitchenall" document to everyone when updated – this does cover living people, so tell me if that's a problem.

For this presentation, names identified in red are believed to be living.

SO, PUTTING THAT ALL TOGETHER IS THE FUTURE BRIGHT FOR THE MITCHENALL NAME?

- I think
 - There are 67 living people, world wide, who are or were called Mitchenall.
 - Of these, 19 were born Mitchenall but are now using a married name
 - And 10 have adopted the name Mitchenall on Marriage.
 - There are 21 people of 40 years or under who are named Mitchenall
 - There have been 4 boys born in the 21st Century named Mitchenall
 - So, using the conventional approach to family names.
 - In future, unless families get back to Victorian sizes, family gatherings based on the surname Mitchenall will get much smaller – sorry!
